Extended a Cordial Reception to President Taft

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Sept. 17.—President Taft and party arrived in Milwaukee on a special train at 6 a. m. and started at 8 o'clock on a busy four hours' invasion of Milwaukee and the state fair grounds.

The chief executive was met by a reception committee numbering 200 of Milwaukee's leading business men and a large crowd of visitors from various parts of the state who are attending the state fair.

Automobiles were in readiness and the presidential party was driven to the new auditorium. President Taft was here received by President Alvin P. Kretsch and the governing board of the auditorium and escorted through the hall. The chief executive also passed in review of several thousand school children. The Milwaukee press-club was the next stopping place, the president making a ten-minute call. The president was then driven to the chamber of commerce where he was introduced to a throng of commercial men and their friends.

A short call was made at Marquette university, where the president was greeted by President James McCabe and the faculty and serenaded upon his arrival and departure by the Marquette band. From the university President Taft was driven to the Soldiers' Home, where he was greeted by 20,000 veterans, after which the procession moved to the principal point of interest, the state fair grounds. Here the president was introduced to the state fair visitors by President McCarrow.

At the conclusion of the president's address arrangements were made by the state fair officials for a parade of prize winning livestock before the judges' stand, from which the president spoke.

Mr. Taft left for LaCrosse at 11:40 a. m.

REFUSED TO HELP

Serious Charge to be Made Against Nezinscot's Crew

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., Sept. 17.—It was learned yesterday that some very sensational testimony will be introduced at the coming court martial to convene at the navy yard on Monday next, when the blame for the loss of the tug Nezinscot off Hahona point on Aug. 11, and Acting Asst. Surg. Charles E. Trotter, ordinary seaman C. L. Taylor, Cook Charles E. White and seaman L. R. Edwards drowned, will be placed.

The court will be composed of Rear Admiral Nathan T. Miles, pres., Naval Constructors David Taylor, William J. Baxter and George H. Rock, Captains William H. Southerland, Charles E. Fox and Edward B. Underwood and Commanders Patrick W. Hourigan and Joseph H. Oman. Lieut. William P. Cronan, U. S. M. C., will be judge advocate.

The men ordered by the navy department before the court are Naval Constructor John G. Lawrence, who is charged with neglect in not reporting any suspicious he may have had that the tug was unseaworthy; Frank R. Blitzer, chief boatswain's mate, who was in charge of the lifeboat after the tug capsized; George H. Pratt, chief machinist's mate; William H. Fitzgerald, seaman; Vernon P. Tilots and Chas. E. Wood, firemen.

The charge against the enlisted men is that of abandoning several persons, including Capt. Evans, Acting Surgeon Trotter and Machinist's Mate, A. Beltrich. It has developed since the capsizing of the tug that an alleged bitter feeling existed between Capt. Evans and Mate Blitzer for some time previous to the day of sailing of the ill-fated craft for Boston with her heavy deckload of chairs, anchors, searchlights and other weighty material, and that only the day before there was a wordy altercation between them.

It is stated that important evidence pertaining to the fact that men in the boat refused to go to the assistance of Capt. Evans and Dr. Trotter, who were clinging to a wooden grating from the wrecked tug, when implored to do so by Mrs. Evans, will be presented. The crew of the tug will be represented by Ernest L. Guphill and Col. John H. Bartlett.

Machinist's Mate George H. Pratt, one of the men to face the court martial, has seen 27 years of service on the navy and has an excellent record. As most of the members of the crew are residents of this city and have families, there is great interest manifested as to the probable findings of the court.

SEC'Y WILSON

Says Average Laborer is Living Well

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.—"The average laborer of today is living better than Queen Elizabeth did in her time," said Secretary Wilson of the agricultural department today on his return from a month's vacation on his farm in Iowa. He was discussing the prosperous condition of the farmers of the west and the high wages of the workman in the east.

"Take the meat bills of the laborer in Washington today," he continued. "You will find that they cost about three times as much as they did a year ago. They are not content with any kind; they want the best cuts. They can afford them. As a result the price of meat is going up. While the farmers are producing more beef every year, they are not producing enough to meet the increase in population. I do not look for the price to decrease materially soon."

ONE BOY DYING

Several Injured as Result of Hazing at High School

CRANSTON, R. I. Sept. 15.—One boy dying in the Rhode Island hospital and several more injured as the result of hazing at the Cranston high school, was disclosed yesterday when Chief of Police Patrick Tamm announced that he had captured in a trap several boys shortly. The hazing occurred at the opening of the school last Monday and Maxwell Harrison, 14, son of the Rev. Z. Harrison, pastor of the Second Free Baptist church, is the worst victim. He was taken into what is called the "hot box" by several of the boys and in the dark scolded into an old pit, striking his leg against a sharp stone. This caused a bad cut, from which inflammation of the bone resulted and blood poisoning set in. Harrison is at the Rhode Island hospital, but though his leg is so amputated it is an effort to save his life. William Armitage, Albert Moody and Harold Ricker are the boys who were injured. The investigation showed that a large number of the second and third year boys were mixed up in the affair with some seniors and the superintendent of schools says that all will be expelled.

TO THE MEN OF LOWELL

I wish to thank you for the whole-souled, widely enthusiastic reception accorded me in Lowell since my opening six months ago.

In a lifetime of merchant trafficking, embracing the experience of opening and maintaining ten different tailoring stores, it has been my pleasure to receive many a hearty welcome-to-our city from the people of New England.

But my hat is off to Lowell. I can at this time but acknowledge my appreciation and promise you one and all that I shall endeavor to the utmost of my ability to justify that confidence which you have so generously showered upon me since my opening.

To the men, who, in the wildfire rush could not receive the attention they ought to get, I offer an apology. You saw the conditions. But for this fall season I have made ample arrangements to satisfy and please men who in the past have had any grievance or disappointments. I promise you one and all your garments will be ready for Baste Try On on the appointed time, will be finished for you on the time wanted, with the understanding the garment is to fit to your satisfaction or your deposit will be refunded without argument.

Mr. Doherty, who has charge of my fitting and coat room, has had 20 years' experience as head fitter with the Elite Tailoring Co. of Broadway, New York.

My New Fall Styles have arrived and are on my tables today which will include Wood Mills Worsteds, Washington Mills Serges, Gray Clays, Blacks and Blues of the finest material and the most complete line of novelty suitings in New England made to your measure for $12.50, with the understanding if any tailor in the city can produce the same garment within $10 of my price you can have mine for nothing.

Within ten miles of the city of Lowell are situated the greatest woolen mills of this country, the birthplace and lifelong home of woollens and weaves recognized throughout the world as "America's Classics."

When I opened my Lowell store I directed my announcement to the operatives of these great woollens, the men who spend their lifetime making woollens, men who if anybody knows, ought to know values.

My reception will always be historic in the annals of Lowell. These weavers came to me with their knowledge of woollens and values, with their doubts, their misgivings and their skepticism. THEY SAW, they gave me their orders and went home satisfied I had the quality which I represented.

I am in Lowell to stay and my success this coming season I expect to have better than last, with my larger force of tailors, experienced cutters, and everything required to make my store at 24 Central street the most progressive Tailor Shop in New England.

MIDDLESEX FAIR

At Chelmsford Centre Closed With Prize Awards

The Middlesex North fair for 1909 has been the third of $35 to Tewksbury, come and gone. The fair was held in the fourth of $35 to Dracut. conjunction with the Chelmsford grange, and was held at Chelmsford Centre. The story of the two days' fair has already appeared in these columns. For years the fair grounds in this city were the scene of the Middlesex North fair, but the society decided to dispose of the fair grounds, and since then it is being held in conjunction with the dis- ferent granges and it seems a capital idea. It stills competition to the extent that each grange will endeavor to outdo the other on the success of the fair. The Chelmsford grange honored itself yesterday in every way. There were a goodly number of attractions, the dinner was good, and the display of fruit and vegetables was one of the best ever seen in these parts. In passing, it is interesting to note that the Middlesex North society was organized in Chelmsford 14 years ago and held its first fair there, so that Chelmsford has a sort of fatherly feeling for the society and will be ever watchful of its interests.

The Prize Awards

RUNAWAY GIRLS

Have Decided to Return Home

NASHUA, N. H., Sept. 17.—Winifred Bartlett, aged 14, and Minnie Stevens, 13 years old, claiming to be sisters in spite of the discrepancy in the names, were detained by the police last night and today will be placed aboard a Worcester train and conducted to their anxious parents.

The two girls arrived in this city about 1 o'clock yesterday and sat about the junction station until late in the evening, when Patrolman Peter Betters' attention was called to them. They stated that they had been visiting in Worcester and were going to Springfield to their parents' home.

The fact that they were dressed in light gowns and had no hats or baggage aroused the suspicions of the policeman, and after communicating with Deputy Chief Campbell he took them to the police station.

As he was entering, a telephone message came from S. D. Carpenter of Worcester, who talked in behalf of the girls' worried mother. With their arms about each other's necks the girls told their story. They said they were going to Springfield, N. H., where they have an uncle. They gave no reason for their sudden leaving, but declared their mother knew of their whereabouts.

When questioned as to finances they said they had a little over $2 and they agreed to spend it in buying tickets for Worcester in the morning. The mother was notified of this arrangement and will meet them.

For the night the sisters were made comfortable in the matron's room at the station. Both girls are bright appearing and are not of the type with which the police ordinarily have to deal.

DARING BURGLARY

AT HOME OF MORRIS AVERY OF DOVER

DOVER, N. H., Sept. 17.—An unusually bold burglary occurred at 1 Richmond street, the residence of Morris H. Avery, master mechanic of the Cocheco branch of the Pacific mills, yesterday. Entrance was gained through a rear window, which had been left open.

The burglar went through a desk drawers and took an old fashioned gold watch, then entered the sleeping room of Mr. and Mrs. Avery and carried away Mr. Avery's clothing, which was on a chair near the bed, and secured $50. The trousers were found in the back yard yesterday.

The family of Fred Nash, next door, was awakened about 2 a. m. by a noise from the Avery premises, and it is thought the burglary was committed at that time. The Averages were not awakened.

The mother was notified of this arrangement and will meet them.

AFTER 42 YEARS

BROTHERS WHO WERE LONG PARTED, MET

LEWISTON, Sept. 17.—An unusual reunion was held Thursday evening at the home of J. M. Shaw on the College street road, when two brothers, William Henry of Honolulu and Daniel Henry of Mansfield, Mass., met for the first time in 42 years. Their sister, Mrs. Anna L. Henry Dennis, of this city, and a number of friends of Mrs. Dennis were also present.

The guests received from William Henry handsome presents of Hawaiian curiosities in the form of bone necklaces of different nuts growing on the islands, hatpins and Masonic emblems carved in nuts and set in gold. William Henry is a wealthy citizen of Honolulu and has served in many positions there among them being sheriff for a number of years. He has also been strongly considered as a candidate for governor of the islands.

The family of Fred Nash, next door, was awakened about 2 a. m. by a noise from the Avery premises, and it is thought the burglary was committed at that time. The Averages were not awakened.

LAND OF ACADIA

Man Has Copy of the Original Grant

HARTFORD, Conn., Sept. 17.—Eugene Belisle, a middle aged mason's tender of this city, has secured a certified copy of the original grant to an ancestor of his, Emmanuel Leborgne de Belisle, of the broad territories bordering on the St. Lawrence river and the Atlantic ocean, known in history as the land of Acadia. The grant was made in 1657 by the West India company with the consent of Louis the Fourteenth of France, and the territory embraces considerable of the present provinces of New Brunswick and Nova Scotia. Eugene Belisle traces his descent from Chevalier Belisle and he has returned from France, where he obtained a copy of the original grant. He has employed a counsel in Halifax, N. S., to investigate his supposed rights to the land.

The family of Fred Nash, next door, was awakened about 2 a. m. by a noise from the Avery premises, and it is thought the burglary was committed at that time. The Averages were not awakened.

MINORS 18 AND MINORS 21.

The law that restricts the term "minor" to people under eighteen years so far as their capacity to labor is concerned, was not made in the interest of real minors. We presume that it will allow certain men to work in the factories without learning to read or write; but for other purposes the "minor" must be twenty-one before he can claim his rights as an adult under the law of inheritance and in other matters.

THE FALL RIVER STRIKE.

It was with feelings of regret that the friends of organized labor heard of a general strike in the Iron Works mills of Fall River, operated by M. C. D. Borden. In the past Mr. Borden has been one of the best friends of organized labor. He is said to have kept operatives at work at a loss simply that they might not suffer from being idle. Again when other mills cut wages he either made a smaller reduction or left the scale as it was, while in various other ways he has shown a desire to be fair with his employees.

We do not know the merits of the present controversy beyond the fact that a demand was made for a ten per cent. increase in wages.

A strike was declared and seven mills were shut down; but Borden is not one of the men who would try to starve the operatives into submission. He offered a compromise of 5 per cent. which was promptly accepted and friendly relations were restored between employer and employees after a rupture of three days' duration. Let us hope that every other mill strike will be as promptly settled.

THE TROLLEY EXPRESS HELD UP.

We are rather surprised at the aldermen of Lawrence for having turned down the petition for a franchise for the trolley express.

At a time when the merchants of every New England city are subject to the extortions of the American Express company, it is strange, indeed, to find the aldermen of a city like Lawrence tabling a proposition that it carried out could not fail to be a benefit not only to the merchants of the city but also to the farmers who reside outside the city.

Yes, the trolley express would help the farmers and market gardeners to get their produce to the markets while quite fresh, and in this way would benefit the city residents also.

Here in Lowell the merchants have been agitating for lower express rates, but there will be no means of cutting down excessive rates until the trolley express comes to the front to compete with the present express monopolies.

The aldermen or selectmen who hold up this franchise place themselves under suspicion of doing so for unworthy, if not for selfish and corrupt reasons.

THE UNIDENTIFIED VICTIMS OF ACCIDENT.

Scarcely a day passes that we do not read of some unknown man being killed by a train or by an accident of some other description. The body is kept a while for identification and if unclaimed is buried at the place where the accident happened. We have had several cases of this kind in Lowell of late.

Every man should keep something in his pockets that would indicate his name and address in case of accident. Such a precaution may save him from the misfortune of being buried as an unknown while his family and relatives may be searching for him and awaiting his return.

Medical Examiner Meigs, a few weeks ago, said he intended to have the Middlesex North Medical society adopt some uniform policy in regard to such cases in order that greater facilities may be afforded for identification. It seems that something more should be done to procure identification of the victim than is done at present.

Some action of the kind is necessary, and it is to be hoped that Dr. Meigs will carry out his plan for reducing the number of unfortunates who are buried without identification.

UP TO THE BOARD OF HEALTH.

If the statements made by property owners in the vicinity of the Howe street tannery are true, as we believe they are, the local board of health is open to serious blame for allowing such a nuisance and such a menace to public health to continue so long without interruption of any kind.

It is admitted that complaints have been lodged against the tannery, but for some inexplicable reason the health authorities of the city have not deemed it necessary to condemn the Howe street tannery as a nuisance.

Now, however, that the matter has been brought to public attention in a forcible manner through the collapse of the building, the matter of suppressing the nuisance will come more forcibly before the board of health, the body whose duty it is to suppress any nuisance that can be regarded as a menace to public health or damaging to surrounding property.

We hear a great deal about the location of stables at different points throughout the city, but the Howe street tannery is worse than half a dozen ordinary stables. We might say it is worse by far than a creature of the works of the Lowell Rendering company.

Property in the vicinity of the old tannery has been greatly ruined in value, and the nuisance has prevented the improvement of old property and the construction of new buildings in that neighborhood. Why should a large district be subjected to a nuisance that drives out a large price and blocks the march of progress noticeable in other parts of the city?

If the interests of the public or the rights of property owners be considered, then the Howe street tannery business must be condemned as a nuisance without hesitation.

Many of the owners of property have been almost ruined. They cannot sell their property and cannot turn it into ruin and remain idle. They have either to occupy it themselves or let it at a ridiculously low rent. They look to the health board for redress. They should have it without delay. The whole district in the vicinity should be relieved from the tannery nuisance that for years has caused people to avoid that district.

The question now is, will the board of health suppress the nuisance or as in the past find a pretext for allowing it to continue?

SEEN AND HEARD

Some restaurants are noted for their good coffee and others for their poor potatoes.

It was Herbert Spencer who said: "In our tender regard for the vested interests of the few, let us not forget the rights of many." He also said: "The sparing of commands. Command only when other means are ineffectual or have failed."

It is the man turning the furrow, not the one sitting on the fence, who has a right to express an opinion.

Appear to the neighbor as one without a fault, and then proceed to have as few faults as your neighbor has right about it.

Be careful how you contradict a fool. Sometimes he knows more than he knows he knows and science may come along some day and back him up.

You may live up to part of your best intentions all the time, or all your best intentions part of the time, but you will have to stop some if you live up to all your best intentions all the time.

IF WE LET KNOW

Could we but draw back the curtains of fate and see what's in store for us, we would know what our action gives—Ours we would find it better. Better than we could find it better. We would have each other better. If we only understood.

Could we but judge all deeds by motives, we would see the good and bad within. Ours we would find it better. All the while we would see the good. Could we but know the power working in the world, we would have each other better. If we only understood.

If we knew the cares and trials, we would know the crown all in vain. And the better disappointment—Understood the loss and gain—Would the grim external roughness seem, I wonder, just the same? Would we let it show where we understand? Would we let it show where we blame?

All we judge each other harshly, knowing not life's hidden force. Knowing not the heart's action, is less varied at its source. Some are mild the rest are wild. All the while we would see the good. Could we but know the power working in the world, we would have each other better. If we only understood.

Whether there be a devil or no has long been a matter of dispute. But you may be certain of this, that when you speak of discouragement and despair, you are creating one.

If you ever undertake to "Go and

He suffered from the itching and burning and would scratch until he would bleed. He was a perfect sight. We tried every kind of salve and soap but they did no good. After spending hundreds of dollars, and having several doctors, which did him no good, we saw the Cuticura Remedies advertised and we got some to see if they would help him. We used the Cuticura Soap to wash him with and then applied the Cuticura Ointment. They cured him nicely. He is now five and has never been bothered with it since. ## DRUG STORES

WERE RAIDED BY DEPUTIES AT BIDDEFORD

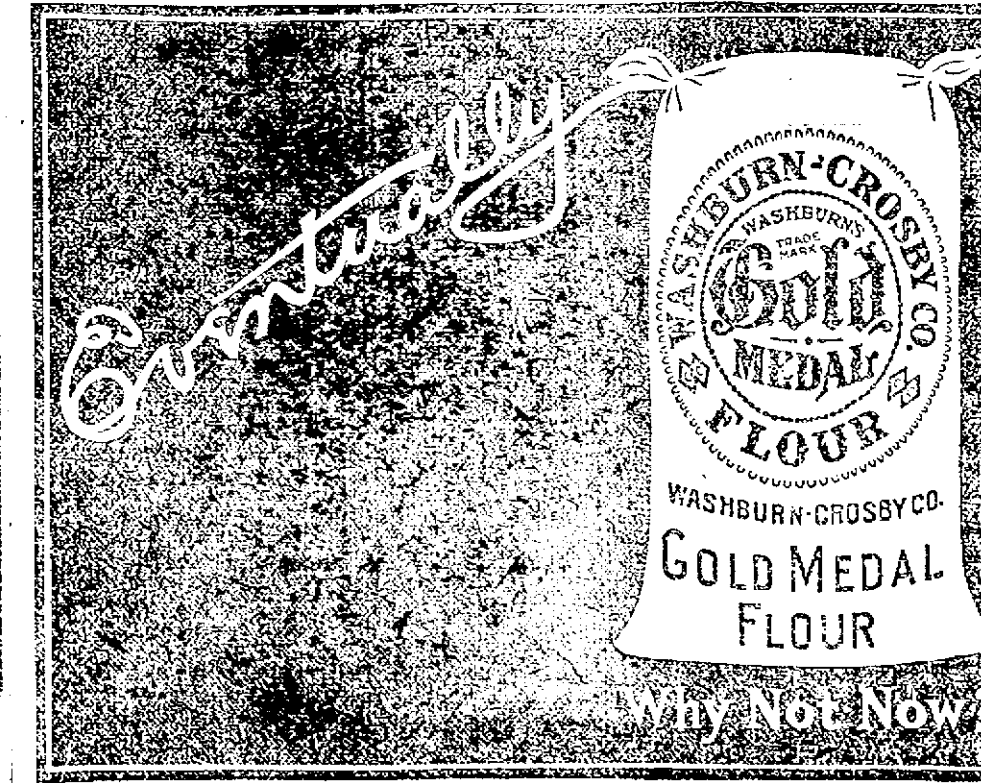

BIDDEFORD, Me., Sept. 17.—Sheriff Charles O. Emery arrived here last night with a big force of deputies and, seeking search warrants from Judge C. Preyer of the municipal court, descended upon the drug stores. The officers went in squads of two and three, raiding a dozen places simultaneously. At each of the drug stores visited they made seizures.

The officers not only took all liquors found in such bottles, but also seized everything in the line of tonics, malt extracts and wine preparations. The seized goods were taken to Deputy Geo. A. Berry's barn on Elm street, several express wagons being required to convey them.

The drug stores at which seizures were made are John W. Maloney, 227 Main street; John H. Seidel, 264 Main street; William E. Dunn, 185 Main street; John G. Morin, 261 Main street; Jeremiah W. ## JAS. B. REYNOLDS

Decides to Serve on Tariff Commission

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.—Asst. Sec. of the Treas. James B. Reynolds was at his desk yesterday receiving congratulations on his recent appointment to a place on the new tariff board, which he says he will accept.

Mr. Reynolds has not as yet resigned his position in the treasury and will not do so until after he has seen and talked with Sec. MacVeach at his summer home in Dublin, N. H., some time next week.

It is understood that Sec. MacVeach regrets exceedingly to let Mr. Reynolds go, but he will have him close by, as it is more than likely that the new tariff board will have its headquarters somewhere in the treasury building if suitable rooms can be found.

Mr. Reynolds expects to go to Dublin next week to confer with the secretary of the treasury on several matters of importance. It is understood that Mr. Reynolds has been requested to withhold his resignation a few days, as Sec. MacVeach has not yet had time to select his successor.

The rumor that Mr. Reynolds might be able to occupy both his present position and the new place is without foundation, as he can hardly find enough time in which to look after the customs work of the United States, which is very heavy and needs constant attention.

Mr. Reynolds is in receipt of a telegram from Chairman Emery of the tariff board suggesting that the first meeting be held some time within a week. Mr. Reynolds says the meeting will be held in Washington.

FINE MEETING

HOLY NAME OF ST. PETER'S PLAN
BUSY SEASON

In the fair hall last evening the St. Peter's Holy Name society held a well attended meeting with President Wm. F. Daly in the chair. The society voted to resume the practice of holding the usual communion breakfast, which will come on the second Sunday in October. President Daly nominated a committee to serve with the board of government in connection with the affair. The committee for Daniel E. Reilly, John V. Donohue, Patrick Frawley, Michael Cammer, James Starr, Frank Kane and Michael McElighey.

The president also brought up the question of conducting a minstrel show, and the following committee was appointed to report on the matter: President W. F. Daly, John V. Donohue, Wm. F. Thorpe, James E. Donohue and Wm. F. Boyle.

A committee was also appointed to act with the literary committee in planning for a smoke talk, to be held at the next regular meeting of the society. The joint committee is as follows: James Kane, Joseph Scallan, Frank Joffe, Daniel P. Carroll, Frank J. Campbell, Felix Donohue, Michael Gutherie and John J. Banks.

Rev. John F. Burns, the spiritual director of the society, spoke in regard to the coming quarterly communion, and read the members of the society to record attendance, as it would be the first appearance of the society before the new pastor, Rev. Dr. Kelleher.

The memorial mass which was postponed from Labor day will take place Thanksgiving morning.

At a committee meeting after the regular session, Secretary Bernard Ward was appointed treasurer of the committee on arrangements for the communion breakfast.

There were many matters of interest discussed at the meeting, and the conclusion seemed to prevail that this year the society intends to keep well to the fore in the matter of entertainments and other features that go to benefit a society of its kind.

In some quarters there is a feeling that a parade of local Holy Name societies should be held before the snow flies. The members of St. Peter's society are particularly anxious for such a demonstration and will probably take the initiative in the matter. It is expected that something definite relative to the parade idea will be done at the next meeting.

ATTACK!

There is nothing that will more completely knock out a man, or woman either, and entirely incapacitate them for work or pleasure, than a bad attack of biliousness. You get up with a headache which increases if you stoop over. You are dizzy when you stand up straight again. Your tongue is coated and your mouth tastes bad. You are irritable and out of sorts. That's biliousness.

If you want to get right again remove the cause. Your bowels are clogged. The natural sewers of the body fail to carry off the poisonous matter. The bile is being absorbed by the blood, and your whole body is crying out against the imposition. Take three Smith's Pineapple and Butter-Rut Pills at once. Don't wait till you go to bed. Then take two more when you retire. It is astonishing to see how quickly they will relieve. They restore the liver and stomach to normal activity and purify the blood. The board voted to invite the officers of the five divisions and of the Ladies' auxiliary for a conference next Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock at which time several matters of importance will be considered.

Division II, A. O. H. will celebrate its 35th anniversary next Friday evening. The committee in charge is making elaborate arrangements for the event. The post prandial exercises will be preceded by a short business session at which a large number of candidates will be initiated.

JUDGE CASEY

HAS DECIDED TO LEAVE THE BENCH

LEE, Sept. 17.—Judge Patrick H. Casey, who has sat on the bench of the district court of Lee since 1891, has sent his resignation to Gov. Draper.

The news of the action of Judge Casey first became known yesterday. His resignation was dated Sept. 15.

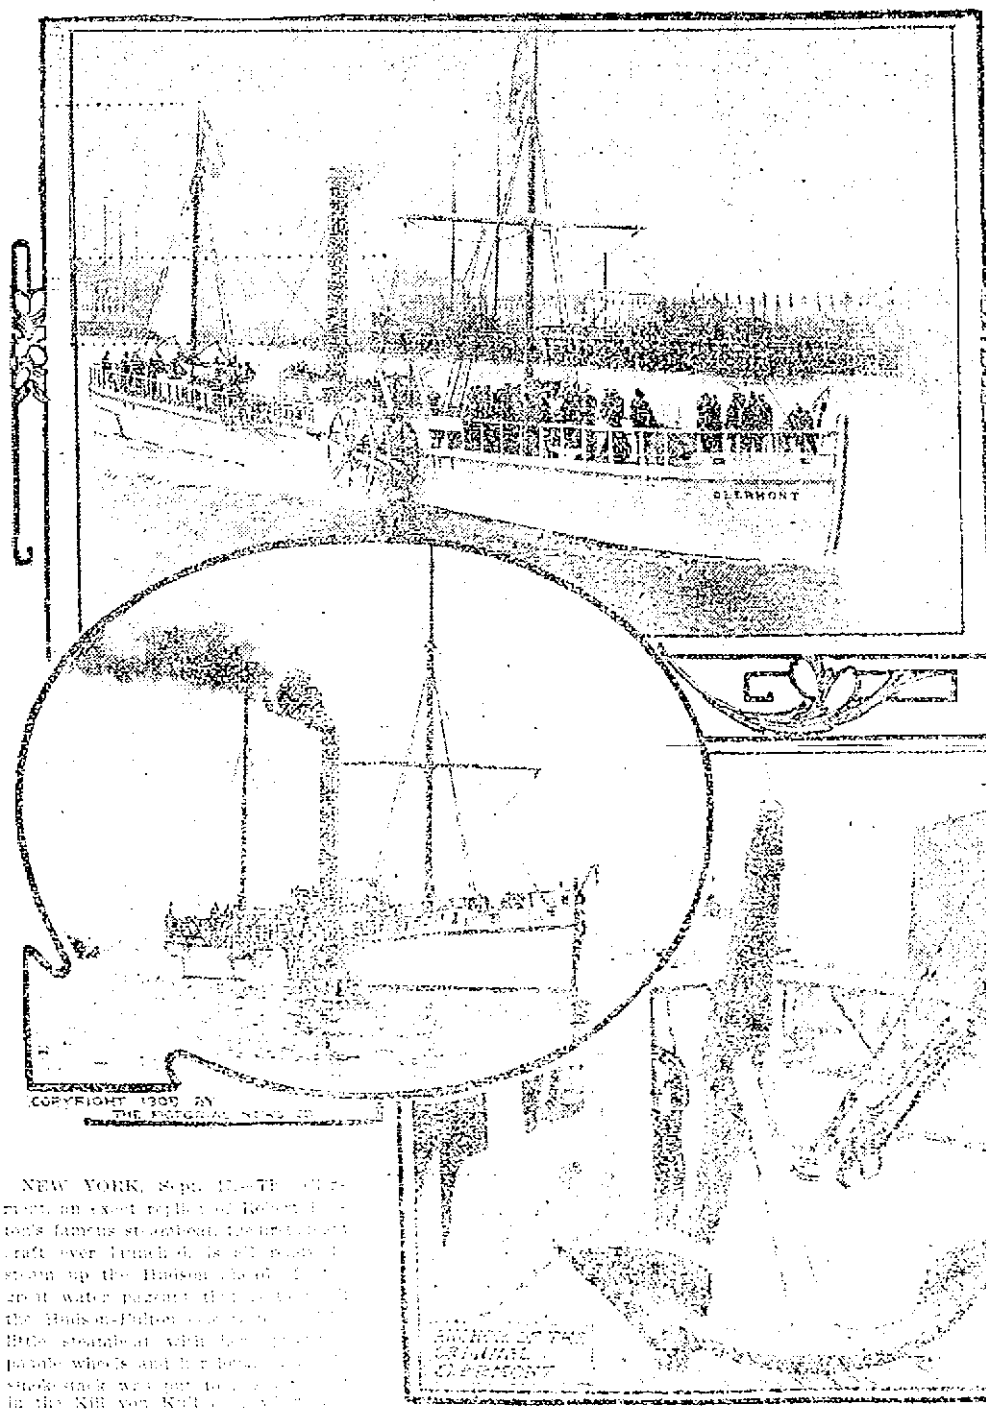

Judge Casey was appointed to the court by Gov. William E. Russell, to succeed Judge Bramming. Judge Casey was the orator at a memorial McKinley concert in Hotel Aspinwall, Lowell, in September, 1906. There he met Miss Louise Elmish Hosking, late of Philadelphia and they were married in February, 1907. Mrs. Casey brought her husband a large fortune.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Sept. 17.—The condition of Mrs. Rosina Tremblay, wife of Arthur Tremblay, who was found unconscious beside the dead body of her husband in a room in the Narragansett hotel here Wednesday evening with no flowing from a fire, is reported as unchanged. The surgeons at the Rhode Island hospital where the lady was, after a brief but a few days, is under treatment, held out little hope of recovery.

The young couple, who were on their honeymoon, were married in Taftville, Conn., where they belonged, last Tuesday morning. Alfred Tremblay, a brother of the groom, and Mr. Marcus, father of the bride, identified the body of Arthur Tremblay last night and arranged for its removal to Taftville for burial.

MAN FOUND DEAD MAY BE FOUL PLAY

His Wife Submitted to a Severe Examination

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—Mrs. Irving J. Nelson, wife of the Suffolk county political leader, who was found dead, shot through the back, near his home at Islip, Long Island, yesterday, was submitted to a severe examination by the authorities today in regard to the several important points connected with the mysterious murder of her husband. Mrs. Nelson and Augustus Schwartz, who boarded with the Nelsons, have been held as material witnesses. Col. William B. Savage, who interrogated the woman for three hours, also questioned Schwartz and said afterward that he was not satisfied with their narration of the events of the night when Nelson was shot. The coroner was convinced the murder had been committed through hatred or jealousy.

Body of Man Was Found at Revere Beach

BOSTON, Sept. 17.—The police were early today confronted by two mysteries in the finding of the unidentified bodies of two men. Shortly after daylight two police officers discovered the body of a man in the frog pond on the common where he had evidently drowned in four feet of water. At about the same time the Metropolitan police were called upon to unravel the mystery surrounding the finding of the body of a man on the Revere beach boulevard about half a mile from Point of Pines. The latter's body was said to show evidence of foul play and Medical Examiner George B. Magrath immediately began an investigation.

A HANGING BOY

Saved by Miss Katherine Wright

FRANKFORT, Germany, Sept. 17.—Miss Katherine Wright, sister of Orville Wright, the aviator, was the central figure in a sensational rescue here last night, when she saved from a tragic death a youth who was discovered hanging head downward from the rigging of the great Parseval dirigible balloon as it swept aloft in rapid flight.

Miss Wright was a passenger in the balloon, and as the great airship left the ground the cries of horror from the spectators which reached the ears of the aviators was the first intimation they had of the lad's serious predicament.

Hundreds turned away their heads and many women fainted as they saw the lad, his feet tightly caught by the trail rope, carried into the air head down, his terrific screams sounding high above the din of cheers that marked the ascension of the balloon.

The great airship had reached an altitude of nearly 600 feet before its occupants had realized what had happened, and then it was that Miss Wright's self-control and coolness asserted itself.

Leaning far over the basket she grasped the rope in which the terrified lad was entwined and carefully started to pull him upward toward the basket, assisted by her companions in the balloon.

Slowly but surely the lad was drawn toward the basket until his side was reached, and then several pairs of hands grasped him and pulled him to safety, unhurt, although badly scared by his experience.

When the balloon again descended to the ground after the trial the immense crowd broke forth into prolonged cheers for Miss Wright and her companions.

The boy speedily recovered, and is not a whit harmed by the terrible experience that he underwent. He has been made a hero of by other boys, but the aeronauts say that due precaution in the future will be taken to see to it that no more involuntary passengers are taken towards the clouds.

Mr. O'Callaghan will now head the Ward 12 machine ticket.

The commission decided that the McNamara ticket in Ward 12 does not seem to be justified by having one name eliminated in for the state convention than the ward is allowed.

It was decided that the removing of the name of William L. Newton, the last name on the ticket, will fulfill the requirements of the law.

THE JORDAN CASE

CAMBRIDGE, Sept. 17.—The hearing on a petition for a new trial for Chester Jordan, the alleged wife murderer, arranged to be held at the Suffolk county court-house tomorrow, this afternoon has been postponed to Saturday, Sept. 25, when it will take place in the Middlesex county court-house. The petition is based on the alleged insanity of Willis A. White of Maynard, one of the jurors.

DERBIES FOR DRESS—SOFT HATS FOR COMFORT

Which or both?

You buy two hats in the Spring season—three perhaps—why try to get along in the Fall and Winter with one?

Of course you must have a derby—a man could hardly get by without a derby—but why not one of those smart new soft hats for early Fall?

After taking off the straw, you'll hardly notice the change in the feeling, but the appearance will be noticeable enough.

Lots of "class" in the new soft hats—especially those from Stetson.

New colors, too: Cadet blue, navy blue and lead shades are the last word in soft hat colors; pearl, smoke and heather greens are also good.

Prices—$2.00, $3.00 and $5.00.

The self conforming derbies from Stetson appeal to the man with a hard-to-fit head. They set so easy you hardly know you've a hat on.

The Fall shape is splendid—a full crown with a smartly curled brim—and shown in proportions to suit any physique.

Two qualities—$3.50 and $5.00.

The SMARTSET and SMARTSHOP derbies are clever shapes and leaders at their prices—$2.00 and $3.00.

New golf caps—50c and $1.00.

DEAD CANDIDATE

Name Must be Taken Off Ballot

BOSTON, Sept. 17.—The Boston ballot law commission established a precedent yesterday by deciding that the name of a dead man cannot legally appear on an election ballot in this city if after the death of the candidate there is time to have the name stricken off and the ballot printed for election day.

The question arose through the death of John H. Colby, whose name headed the regular republican machine ward committee ticket in ward 12, and also appeared upon the machine state delegation ticket that ward.

Mr. Colby died after the time had expired for withdrawal and substitution for the state primaries.

The commission also decided that the Boston 1 and of election commission and the chief justice of the municipal court must be struck off of the list, and that the tickets on which his name appeared must appear in the election papers short one name.

Butler Wilson will now head the Ward 12 machine ticket.

The commission decided that the McNamara ticket in Ward 12 does not seem to be justified by having one name eliminated in for the state convention than the ward is allowed.

It was decided that the removing of the name of William L. Newton, the last name on the ticket, will fulfill the requirements of the law.

The commission also decided that the district attorney delegation in ward 14, headed by Alderman O'Hara and pledged to Edward P. Barry, cannot go on the ballot pledged on the ground that the ticket was substituted for another that was unpledged.

CREDIT DR. COOK

Germans Have Little Faith in Peary's Story

DRESDEN, Sept. 17.—Raoul Olivier, a member of the executive committee of the Belgian Antarctic expedition of 1907 which is now in Dresden, today expressed the opinion that Belgian scientists generally had full confidence in Dr. Frederick A. Cook, who has won the esteem of the Belgian committee and the Belgian Antarctic expedition, of which he was a member, by his quiet demeanor, his integrity and his determination. It obliged to judge between the narratives of Dr. Cook and Commander Peary, Mr. Olivier said, he would place greater reliance on the former.

Mr. Olivier said he was astonished at the similarity between the two stories. Dr. Cook's statement regarding the temperature at the pole was confirmed by previous observations; Peary's estimate was too low, Mr. Olivier said frankly, that he disbelieved Peary's statement that he traveled 25 miles a day and he thinks the confession of the commander that he took only one man to the pole with him because he wanted to have the honor of discovery all to himself supplies a clue for his attacks on Dr. Cook. The thirty-four hours Peary spent at the pole were insufficient to take copious observations.

Mr. Olivier, who was plainly much incensed at Commander Peary, said that it would require more than abuse of Dr. Cook to win credit for his story in Europe. Continuing, he declared that Prof. Oberhummer, with whom he had talked, did not reject Dr. Cook's record but was merely awaiting his evidence. The professor had read part of Peary's narrative and found it even less convincing than Dr. Cook's.

MANY MESSAGES OF CONGRATULATION SENT TO PEARY

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—When Herbert L. Bridgman, secretary and treasurer of the Peary Arctic club, returned to his home in Brooklyn late last night from Sydney, N. S., he found unopened in his desk a number of telegrams of congratulation to Commander Peary, among which was the following dated Leeds, Belgium, Sept. 15, and addressed to him in Mr. Bridgman's care:

"Peary: International polar commission addresses warmest congratulations to their member. 'Cagni, Nordenskiöld, Leconte.' Leconte is a suburb of Brussels and is the seat of the royal Belgian observatory, of which M. Leconte is the director. Captain Umberto Cagni, who was the Italian leader of the Duke of the Abruzzi polar expedition, is president of the international polar commission; Dr. Oloffe Nordenskiöld is its vice president, and has led a Swedish expedition into the Arctic while M. Leconte is its secretary. The international polar commission was appointed May 29, 1905, by the delegates of several nations who met in Brussels to constitute the international polar congress. It has no government authority, but its members are geographers and scientists of the first rank, and Dr. Bridgman, as a staunch supporter of the integrity of Peary's claim, was very happy to have the stamp of its approval on the commander's work."

Dr. Cook while at Copenhagen, received telegrams of congratulation from Brussels and invitations to lecture there, but Mr. Bridgman was insistent last night that none of them came officially from the international polar commission and that the messages dated Sept. 8 and made public yesterday was the first authentic recognition of the discovery of the pole yet accorded to either claimant by a world-wide body of recognized authority on the subject.

The following additional messages from geographical societies of importance were also given out by Mr. Bridgman last night:

"Vancouver: Congratulations on Peary's safe return."

"Scottish Geographic society."

"Applaudissons magnifiquement le succès Peary."

"Hilut, secrétaire general Societe

Geographique Paris."

"Please convey Peary our warmest congratulations. We hope he will accept our invitation to lecture in Rome when visiting Europe."

"Marquis Coppelli, president Societe Geografica Italiana."

"The members of the American Geographical society rejoice with you and send hearty congratulations upon your superb achievement."

"Archer Huntington, president, American Geographical society."

The following message from Peary to Mr. Bridgman was received yesterday:

"Surgeon of Grenfell hospital here, asks if he can buy for hospital some of expedition supplies left over. Shall I sell or present to him?"

"Peary."

Permission had been telegraphed Peary, Mr. Bridgman said, to make a present of these left over supplies to the hospital.

MRS. W. C. FOGG

RECEIVED A LONG LETTER FROM HER BROTHER

FREEMONT, Me., Sept. 17.—Mrs. W. C. Fogg of this town, sister of Daniel B. McMillan, who is with the Peary expedition, received a letter from her brother yesterday. Most important among its contents so far as the public is concerned was an extended notice of Dr. Cook. Mrs. Fogg, however, refused to discuss the nature of these remarks.

Mr. McMillan told of an accident in which he was shot on Aug. 11. A party had been walrus hunting and had returned to the ship when one of the men discharged accidentally a gun which he was cleaning. The bullet passed through a partition and struck Mr. McMillan, embedding itself in his shoulder. He said that he is now recovering.

The date of the departure of the Roosevelt from Battle Harbor, where the letter was written, for Sydney, is given as Friday.

PROF. MILOZVICH

SAYS BOTH PEARY AND COOK REACHED POLE

ROME, Sept. 17.—Prof. Milozvich, director of the royal observatory, expressed his firm belief yesterday that both Cook and Peary reached the pole. He strongly rejects the supposition that either is lying.

"A man of science," he said, "an apostle who has consecrated his entire life to wiping from peacock's nature her fantastic fancies would not lie. Nansen is the only one who could put an end to the doubts regarding Dr. Cook. If Nansen did not speak, Seedorp spoke in his stead, saying that he believed Cook, which means that that is also Nansen's opinion."

"I am sure," continued the director, "that I do not see in affirming that Peary himself in his secret soul thinks that he wasn't the first to reach the pole."

THE TAXATION LAWS

BOSTON, Sept. 17.—The commission created by the last legislature to investigate the state laws relative to taxation of property, met at the state house today for its first public meeting. One of the subjects considered by the commission is that of the taxation of college property, a matter that has confronted the legislature for several years but has never been satisfactorily settled. The commission will also report on the advisability of a classification of property for the purpose of taxation and as to whether it is necessary or desirable to amend the constitution to permit such classification.

Extended a Cordial Reception to President Taft

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Sept. 17.—President Taft and party arrived in Milwaukee on a special train at 6 a. m. and started at 8 o'clock on a busy four hours' invasion of Milwaukee and the state fair grounds.

The chief executive was met by a reception committee numbering 200 of Milwaukee's leading business men and a large crowd of visitors from various parts of the state who are attending the state fair.

Automobiles were in readiness and the presidential party was driven to the new auditorium. President Taft was here received by President Alvin P. Kletzich and the governing board of the auditorium and escorted through the hall. The chief executive also passed in review of several thousand school children. The Milwaukee press club was the next stopping place, the president making a ten-minute call. The president was then driven to the chamber of commerce where he was introduced to a throng of commercial men and their friends.

A short call was made at Marquette university, where the president was greeted by President James McCabe and the faculty and sermonized upon his arrival and departure by the Marquette band. From the university President Taft was driven to the Soldiers' Home, where he was greeted by 20,000 veterans, after which the procession moved to the principal point of interest, the state fair grounds. Here the president was introduced to the state fair visitors by President McCarrow.

At the conclusion of the president's address arrangements were made by the state fair officials for a parade of prize winning livestock before the judges' stand, from which the president spoke.

Mr. Taft left for Lacrosse at 11:40 a. m.

REFUSED TO HELP

Serious Charge to be Made Against Nezinscot's Crew

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., Sept. 17.—It was learned yesterday that some very sensational testimony will be introduced at the coming court-martial to convene at the navy yard on Monday next, when the blame for the loss of the tug Nezinscot off Kahlbut point on Aug. 11, and Acting Asst. Surg. Charles E. Trotter, ordinary seaman C. L. Taylor, Cook Charles E. White, a seaman L. R. Edwards drowned, will be placed.

The court will be composed of Rear Admiral Nathan G. Miles pres., Naval Constructors David Taylor, William J. Baxter and George H. Rock, Captains William H. Southard, Charles E. Fox and Edward B. Underwood and Commanders Patrick W. Hourigan and Joseph H. Cmen. Lieut. William P. Cronan, U. S. M. C., will be judge advocate.

The men ordered by the navy department before the court are Naval Constructor John G. Lawrence, who is charged with neglect in not reporting any suspicious he may have had that the tug was unseaworthy; Frank R. Bitter, chief boatswain's mate, who was in charge of the lifeboat after the tug capsized; George H. Pratt, chief machinist's mate; William H. Fitzgerald, seaman; Vernon F. Thous and Chas. P. Wood, firemen.

The charge against the enlisted men is that of abandoning several persons, including Capt. Evans, Acting Surgeon Trotter and Machinist's Mate, A. Beltrio. It has developed since the capsizing of the tug that an alleged bitter feeling existed between Capt. Evans and Mate Bitters for some time previous to the day of sailing of the ill-fated craft for Boston with her heavy deckload of chains, anchors, searchlights and other weighty material, and that only the day before there was a wordy altercation between them.

It is stated that important evidence pertaining to the fact that men in the boat refused to go to the assistance of Capt. Evans and Dr. Trotter, who were clinging to a wooden grating from the wrecked tug, when implored to do so by Mrs. Evans, will be presented. The crew of the tug will be represented by Ernest L. Guphill and Col. John H. Bartlett.

Machinist's Mate George H. Pratt, one of the men to face the court-martial, has seen 27 years of service on the navy and has an excellent record. As most of the members of the crew are residents of this city and have families, there is great interest manifested as to the probable findings of the court.

SEC'Y WILSON

Says Average Laborer is Living Well

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.—"The average laborer of today is living better than Queen Elizabeth did in her time," said Secretary Wilson of the agricultural department today on his return from a month's vacation on his farm in Iowa. He was discussing the prosperous condition of the farmers of the west and the high wages of the workman in the east.

"Take the meat bills of the laborer in Washington today," he continued. "You will find that they eat meat three times a day—most of them—and what is more they are not content with any kind; they want the best cuts. They can afford them. As a result the price of meat is way up. While the farmers are producing more beef every year, they are not producing enough to meet the increase in population. I do not look for the price to decrease materially soon."

TO THE MEN OF LOWELL

I wish to thank you for the whole-souled, widely enthusiastic reception accorded me in Lowell since my opening six months ago.

In a lifetime of merchant trafficking, embracing the experience of opening and maintaining ten different tailoring stores, it has been my pleasure to receive many a hearty welcome-to-our city from the people of New England.

But my hat is off to Lowell. I can at this time but acknowledge my appreciation and promise you one and all that I shall endeavor to the utmost of my ability to justify that confidence which you have so generously showered upon me since my opening.

To the men, who, in the wildfire rush could not receive the attention they ought to get, I offer an apology. You saw the conditions. But for this fall season I have made ample arrangements to satisfy and please men who in the past have had any grievance or disappointments. I promise you one and all your garments will be ready for Baste Try On on the appointed time, will be finished for you on the time wanted, with the understanding the garment is to fit to your satisfaction or your deposit will be refunded without argument.

Mr. Doherty, who has charge of my fitting and coat room, has had 20 years' experience as head fitter with the Elite Tailoring Co. of Broadway, New York.

My New Fall Styles have arrived and are on my tables today which will include Wood Mills Worsted, Washington Mills Serges, Gray Clays, Blacks and Blues of the finest material and the most complete line of novelty suitings in New England made to your measure for $12.50, with the understanding if any tailor in the city can produce the same garment within $10 of my price you can have mine for nothing.

Within ten miles of the city of Lowell are situated the greatest woolen mills of this country, the birthplace and lifelong home of woollens and weaves recognized throughout the world as "America's Classics."

When I opened my Lowell store I directed my announcement to the operatives of these great woollens, the men who spend their lifetime making woollens, men who if anybody knows, ought to know values.

My reception will always be historic in the annals of Lowell. These weavers came to me with their knowledge of woollens and values, with their doubts, their misgivings and their skepticism. THEY SAW, they gave me their orders and went home satisfied I had the quality which I represented.

I am in Lowell to stay and my success this coming season I expect to have better than last, with my larger force of tailors, experienced cutters, and everything required to make my store at 24 Central street the most progressive Tailor Shop in New England.

MIDDLESEX FAIR

At Chelmsford Centre Closed With Prize Awards

The Middlesex North fair for 1909 has come and gone. The fair was held in conjunction with the Chelmsford grange and was held at Chelmsford Centre. The story of the two days' fair has already appeared in these columns. For years the Fair grounds in this city was the scene of the Middlesex North fair, but the society decided to dispose of the Fair grounds, and since then it is being held in conjunction with the different granges and it seems a capital idea. It stirs competition to the extent that each grange will endeavor to outdo the other on the success of the fair. The grange in whose home town the fair is held feels itself in a great measure responsible for the success of the fair, and this feeling promotes success. Chelmsford honored itself yesterday in every way. There were a goodly number of attractions, the dinner was good and the display of fruit and vegetables was one of the best ever seen in these parts. In passing, it is interesting to note that the Middlesex North society was organized in Chelmsford 54 years ago and held its first fair there, so that Chelmsford has a sort of fatherly feeling for the society and will be ever watchful of its interests.

The Prize Awards
H. A. Turner of Norwell and L. H. Parker of Dunstable, acting as judges at the Middlesex North fair yesterday, made the awards in the grange exhibits. The first prize of $75 was given to Chelmsford, the second of $50 to Bill-

RUNAWAY GIRLS

Have Decided to Return Home

NASHUA, N. H., Sept. 17.—Winnifred Bartlett, aged 14, and Minnie Stevens, 13 years old, claiming to be sisters in spite of the discrepancy in the names, were detained by the police last night and today will be placed aboard a Worcester train and conducted to their anxious parents.

The two girls arrived in this city about 4 o'clock yesterday and sat about the junction station until late in the evening, when Patrolman Peter Betters' attention was called to them. They stated that they had been visiting in Worcester and were going to Springfield to their parents' home.

The fact that they were dressed in light gowns and had no hats or baggage aroused the suspicions of the policeman, and after communicating with Deputy Chief Campbell he took them to the police station.

As he was entering, a telephone message came from S. D. Carpenter of Worcester, who talked in behalf of the girls' worried mother. With their arms about each other's necks the girls told their story. They said they were going to Springfield, N. H., where they have an uncle. They gave no reason for their sudden leaving, but declared their mother knew of him. When questioned as to finances they said they had a little over $2 and they agreed to spend it in buying tickets for Worcester in the morning. The mother was notified of this arrangement and will meet them.

For the night the sisters were made comfortable in the matron's room at the station. Both girls are bright appearing and are not of the type with which the police ordinarily have to deal.

DARING BURGLARY

AT HOME OF MORRIS AVERY OF DOVER

DOVER, N. H., Sept. 17.—An unusually bold burglary occurred at 1 Richmond street, the residence of Morris H. Avery, master mechanic of the Cocheco branch of the Pacific mills, yesterday.

Entrance was gained through a rear window, which had been left open.

The burglar went through a desk downstairs and took an old fashioned gold watch, then entered the sleeping room of Mr. and Mrs. Avery and carried away Mr. Avery's clothing, which was on a chair near the bed, and secured $50. The trousers were found in the back yard yesterday.

The family of Fred Nash, next door, was awakened about 2 a. m. by a noise from the Avery premises, and it is thought the burglary was committed at that time. The Averages were not awakened.

AFTER 42 YEARS

BROTHERS WHO WERE LONG PARTED, MET

NEWTON, Sept. 17.—An unusual reunion was held Thursday evening at the home of J. M. Shaw on the College street road, when two brothers, William Henry of Haverhill and Daniel Henry of Mansfield, Mass., met for the first time in 42 years. Their sister, Mrs. Anna L. Henry Dennis, of this city, and a number of friends of Mrs. Dennis were also present.

The guests received from William Henry handsome presents of Hawaiian curiosities in the form of long necklaces of different nuts growing on the islands, hats and Masonic emblems carved in nuts and set in gold.

William Henry is a wealthy citizen of the central part of the state. He has employed 100 men and has served in many positions there among them being shortly for a number of years. He has also been strongly considered as a candidate for governor of the islands.

Their sister, Mrs. Anna L. Henry Dennis, of this city, and a number of friends of Mrs. Dennis were also present.

MINORS 18 AND MINORS 21.

The law that restricts the term "minor" to people under eighteen years so far as their capacity to labor is concerned, was not made in the interest of real minors. We presume that it will allow certain men to work in the factories without learning to read or write; but for other purposes the "minor" must be twenty-one before he can claim his rights as an adult under the law of inheritance and in other matters.

THE FALL RIVER STRIKE.

It was with feelings of regret that the friends of organized labor heard of a general strike in the Iron Works mills of Fall River, operated by M. C. D. Borden. In the past Mr. Borden has been one of the best friends of organized labor. He is said to have kept operatives at work at a loss simply that they might not suffer from being idle. Again when other mills cut wages he either made a smaller reduction or left the scale as it was, while in various other ways he has shown a desire to be fair with his employees.

We do not know the merits of the present controversy beyond the fact that a demand was made for a ten per cent. increase in wages.

A strike was declared and seven mills were shut down; but Borden is not one of the men who would try to starve the operatives into submission. He offered a compromise of 5 per cent. which was promptly accepted and friendly relations were restored between employer and employees after a rupture of three days' duration. Let us hope that every other mill strike will be as promptly settled.

THE TROLLEY EXPRESS HELD UP.

We are rather surprised at the aldermen of Lawrence for having turned down the petition for a franchise for the trolley express.

At a time when the merchants of every New England city are subject to the extortions of the American Express company, it is strange, indeed, to find the aldermen of a city like Lawrence tabling a proposition that if carried out could not fail to be a benefit not only to the merchants of the city but also to the farmers who reside outside the city.

Yes, the trolley express would help the farmers and market gardeners to get their produce to the markets while quite fresh, and in this way would benefit the city residents also.

Here in Lowell the merchants have been agitating for lower express rates, but there will be no means of cutting down excessive rates until the trolley express comes to the front to compete with the present express monopolies.

The aldermen or selectmen who hold up this franchise place themselves under suspicion of doing so for unworthy, if not for selfish and corrupt reasons.

THE UNIDENTIFIED VICTIMS OF ACCIDENT.

Scarcely a day passes that we do not read of some unknown man being killed by a train or by an accident of some other description. The body is kept a while for identification and if unclaimed is buried at the place where the accident happened. We have had several cases of this kind in Lowell of late.

Every man should keep something in his pockets that would indicate his name and address in case of accident. Such a precaution may save him from the misfortune of being buried as an unknown while his family and relatives may be searching for him and awaiting his return.

Medical Examiner Meigs, a few weeks ago, said he intended to have the Middlesex North Medical society adopt some uniform policy in regard to such cases in order that greater facilities may be afforded for identification. It seems that something more should be done to procure identification of the victim than is done at present.

Some action of the kind is necessary, and it is to be hoped that Dr. Meigs will carry out his plan for reducing the number of unfortunates who are buried without identification.

UP TO THE BOARD OF HEALTH.

If the statements made by property owners in the vicinity of the Howe street tannery are true, as we believe they are, the local board of health is open to serious blame for allowing such a nuisance and such a menace to public health to continue so long without interruption of any kind.

It is admitted that complaints have been lodged against the tannery, but for some inexplicable reason the health authorities of the city have not deemed it necessary to condemn the Howe street tannery as a nuisance.

Now, however, that the matter has been brought to public attention in a forcible manner through the collapse of the building, the matter of suppressing the nuisance will come more forcibly before the board of health. The body whose duty it is to suppress any nuisance that can be regarded as a menace to public health or damaging to surrounding property.

We have a great deal to say about the location of stables at different points throughout the city, but the Howe street tannery is worse than half a dozen ordinary stables. We might say it is worse by far than a crematory or the works of the Lowell Rendering company.

Property in the vicinity of the old tannery has been greatly reduced in value, and the nuisance has prevented the improvement of old property and the construction of new buildings in that neighborhood. Why should a large district be subjected to a blight of this kind that drives out enterprise and blocks the march of progress noticeable in other parts of the city?

If the interests of the public or the rights of property owners be considered, then the Howe street tannery business must be condemned as a nuisance without hesitation.

Many of the owners of property have been almost ruined. They cannot sell their property and rather than let it go to ruin and remain idle, they have either to occupy it themselves or let it at a ridiculously low rent. They look to the health board for redress. They should have it without delay. The whole district in the vicinity should be relieved from the malarious miasma that for years has caused people to avoid that district.

The question now is, will the board of health suppress the nuisance or as in the past find a pretext for allowing it to continue?

SEEN AND HEARD

Some restaurants are noted for their good coffee and others for their poor potatoes.

It was Herbert Spencer who said: "In our tender regard for the vested interests of the few, let us not forget the rights of many." He also said: "The sparring of commands. Command only when other means are inexplicable or have failed."

It is the man turning the furrow, not the one sitting on the fence, who has a right to express an opinion.

Appear to thy neighbor as one without earthly care, and then proceed to have as good a time as if thy neighbor were right about it.

Be careful how you contradict a fool. Sometimes he knows more than he knows he knows, and Science may come along some day and back him up.

You may live up to part of your best intentions all the time, or all your best intentions part of the time, but you will have to step some if you live up to all your best intentions all the time.

IF WE BUT KNEW

Could we but draw back the curtains That surround each other's lives, See the naked heart and spirit, Know what spur the action gives— Often we would find it better, Purer than we judge we would; We would love each other better, If we only understood.

Could we but take all deeds by motives, See the good and bad within, Often we would love the sinner, All the while we bather the sin, Could we know the powers working To control the integrity, We would judge each other's errors With more patient charity.

If we knew the cares and trials, Knew the efforts all in vain, And the bitter disappointment— Understand the loss and gain— Would the grim external roughness Seem, I wonder, just the same? Would we be in where now we hinder? Would we pity where we blame?

And we judge each other harshly, Knowing not life's hidden force; Knowing not the force of action Is less turbid at its source; Seeing not amid the evil All the golden grains of good; Oh, would we judge each other better, If we only understood.

Whether there be a devil or no has long been a matter of dispute. But you may be certain of this, that when you yield to discouragement and despair, you are creating one.

SEEN AND HEARD

Some restaurants are noted for their good coffee and others for their poor potatoes.

It was Herbert Spencer who said: "In our tender regard for the vested interests of the few, let us not forget the rights of many." He also said: "The sparring of commands. Command only when other means are inexplicable or have failed."

It is the man turning the furrow, not the one sitting on the fence, who has a right to express an opinion.

Appear to thy neighbor as one without earthly care, and then proceed to have as good a time as if thy neighbor were right about it.

Be careful how you contradict a fool. Sometimes he knows more than he knows he knows, and Science may come along some day and back him up.

You may live up to part of your best intentions all the time, or all your best intentions part of the time, but you will have to step some if you live up to all your best intentions all the time.

IF WE BUT KNEW

Could we but draw back the curtains That surround each other's lives, See the naked heart and spirit, Know what spur the action gives— Often we would find it better, Purer than we judge we would; We would love each other better, If we only understood.

Could we but take all deeds by motives, See the good and bad within, Often we would love the sinner, All the while we bather the sin, Could we know the powers working To control the integrity, We would judge each other's errors With more patient charity.

If we knew the cares and trials, Knew the efforts all in vain, And the bitter disappointment— Understand the loss and gain— Would the grim external roughness Seem, I wonder, just the same? Would we be in where now we hinder? Would we pity where we blame?

And we judge each other harshly, Knowing not life's hidden force; Knowing not the force of action Is less turbid at its source; Seeing not amid the evil All the golden grains of good; Oh, would we judge each other better, If we only understood.

Whether there be a devil or no has long been a matter of dispute. But you may be certain of this, that when you yield to discouragement and despair, you are creating one.

JAS. B. REYNOLDS

Decides to Serve on Tariff Commission

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.—Asst. Sec. of the Treas. James B. Reynolds was at his desk yesterday receiving congratulations on his recent appointment to a place on the new tariff board, which he says he will accept.

Mr. Reynolds has not as yet resigned his position in the treasury and will not do so until after he has seen and talked with Sec. MacVeagh at his summer home in Dublin, N. H., some time next week.

It is understood that Sec. MacVeagh regrets exceedingly to let Mr. Reynolds go, but he will have him close by, as it is more than likely that the new tariff board will have its headquarters somewhere in the treasury building if suitable rooms can be found.

Mr. Reynolds expects to go to Dublin next week to confer with the secretary of the treasury on several matters of importance. It is understood that Mr. Reynolds has been requested to withhold his resignation a few days, as Sec. MacVeagh has not yet had time to select his successor.

The rumor that Mr. Reynolds might be able to occupy both his present position and the new place is without foundation, as he can hardly find enough time in which to look after the customs work of the United States, which is very heavy and needs constant attention.

Mr. Reynolds is in receipt of a telegram from Chairman Emory of the tariff board suggesting that the first meeting be held some time within a week. Mr. Reynolds says the meeting will be held in Washington.

FINE MEETING

HOLY NAME OF ST. PETER'S PLAN
BUSY SEASON

In the fair hall last evening the St. Peter's Holy Name society held a well attended meeting with President Wm. P. Daly in the chair. The society voted to resume the practice of holding the usual communion breakfast, which will come on the second Sunday in October. President Daly nominated a committee to serve with the board of government in connection with the affair. The committee is: Daniel F. Reilly, John V. Donoghue, Patrick Frawley, Michael Cannon, James Starr, Frank Kane and Michael McElhinney.

The president also brought up the question of conducting a musical show, and the following committee was appointed to report on the matter: President W. P. Daly, John V. Donoghue, Wm. P. Thornton, James E. Donnelly and Wm. P. Boyle.

A committee was also appointed to act with the literary committee in planning for a smoke talk, to be held at the next regular meeting of the society. The joint committee is as follows: James Cook, Joseph Scanlon, Frank Jeffers, Daniel F. Reilly, Frank J. Campbell, Felix Donnelly, Michael Gauthier and John J. Banks.

Rev. John J. Burns, the spiritual director of the society, spoke in regard to the coming quarterly communion, and urged the members of the society to make a record attendance as it would be the first appearance of the society before the new pastor, Rev. Dr. Kelleher.

The memorial mass which was postponed from Labor day will take place Thanksgiving morning.

At a committee meeting after the regular session, Secretary Bernard Ward was appointed treasurer of the committee on arrangements for the communion breakfast.

There were many matters of interest discussed at the meeting, and the opinion seemed to prevail that this year the society intends to keep well to the fore in the matter of entertainments and other features that go to benefit a society of its kind.

In some quarters there is a feeling that a parade of local Holy Name societies should be held before the snow flies. The members of St. Peter's society are particularly anxious for such a demonstration and will probably take the initiative in the matter. It is expected that something definite relative to the parade idea will be done at the next meeting.

BAD BILIOUS

ATTACK!

There is nothing that will more completely knock out a man, or woman either, and entirely incapacitate them for work or pleasure, than a bad attack of biliousness. You get up with a headache which increases if you stoop over. You are dizzy when you stand up straight again. Your tongue is coated and your mouth tastes bad. You are irritable and out of sorts. That's biliousness.

If you want to get right again remove the cause. Your bowels are clogged. The natural sewers of the body fail to carry off the poisonous matter. The life is being absorbed by the blood, and your whole body is crying out against the impoisonment. Take three Smith's Pineapple and Butternut Pills at once. Don't wait till you go to bed. Then take two more when you retire. It is astonishing to see how quickly they will relieve. They restore the liver and stomach to normal activity and purify the blood. Physicians use and recommend. They form no habit. You should always keep these little Vegetable Pills on hand. They ward off many ills.

LOCAL HIBERNIANS REPLICA OF FULTON'S FIRST STEAMBOAT, THE CLERMONT, PUT TO PRACTICAL TESTPLAN SEVERAL MEETINGS FOR THE WINTER

The Ancient Order of Hibernians is making elaborate preparations for an active season's work. The Central council, A. O. H., met last Sunday after a recess of two months and made arrangements for a series of lectures and converts to be given under the auspices of the A. O. H. The plan is to have a meeting each month during the season, free to the members.

The board of directors of the Hibernian building corporation held a largely attended meeting Tuesday evening, with President James O'Sullivan in the chair. This was Mr. O'Sullivan's first appearance in the hall since his return from a visit to Ireland. He was warmly greeted by his brother members.

The board voted to invite the officers of the five divisions and of the Ladies' auxiliary for a conference next Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock at which time several matters of importance will be considered.

Division 11, A. O. H., will celebrate its 35th anniversary next Friday evening. The committee in charge is making elaborate arrangements for the event.

The local members of the Middlesex County board have been notified to attend an important meeting in South Natick, Sept. 26.

JUDGE CASEY
HAS DECIDED TO LEAVE THE BENCH

LEE, Sept. 17.—Judge Patricius H. Casey, who has sat on the bench of the district court of Lee since 1881, has sent his resignation to Gov. Draper. The news of the action of Judge Casey first became known yesterday. His resignation was dated Sept. 13.

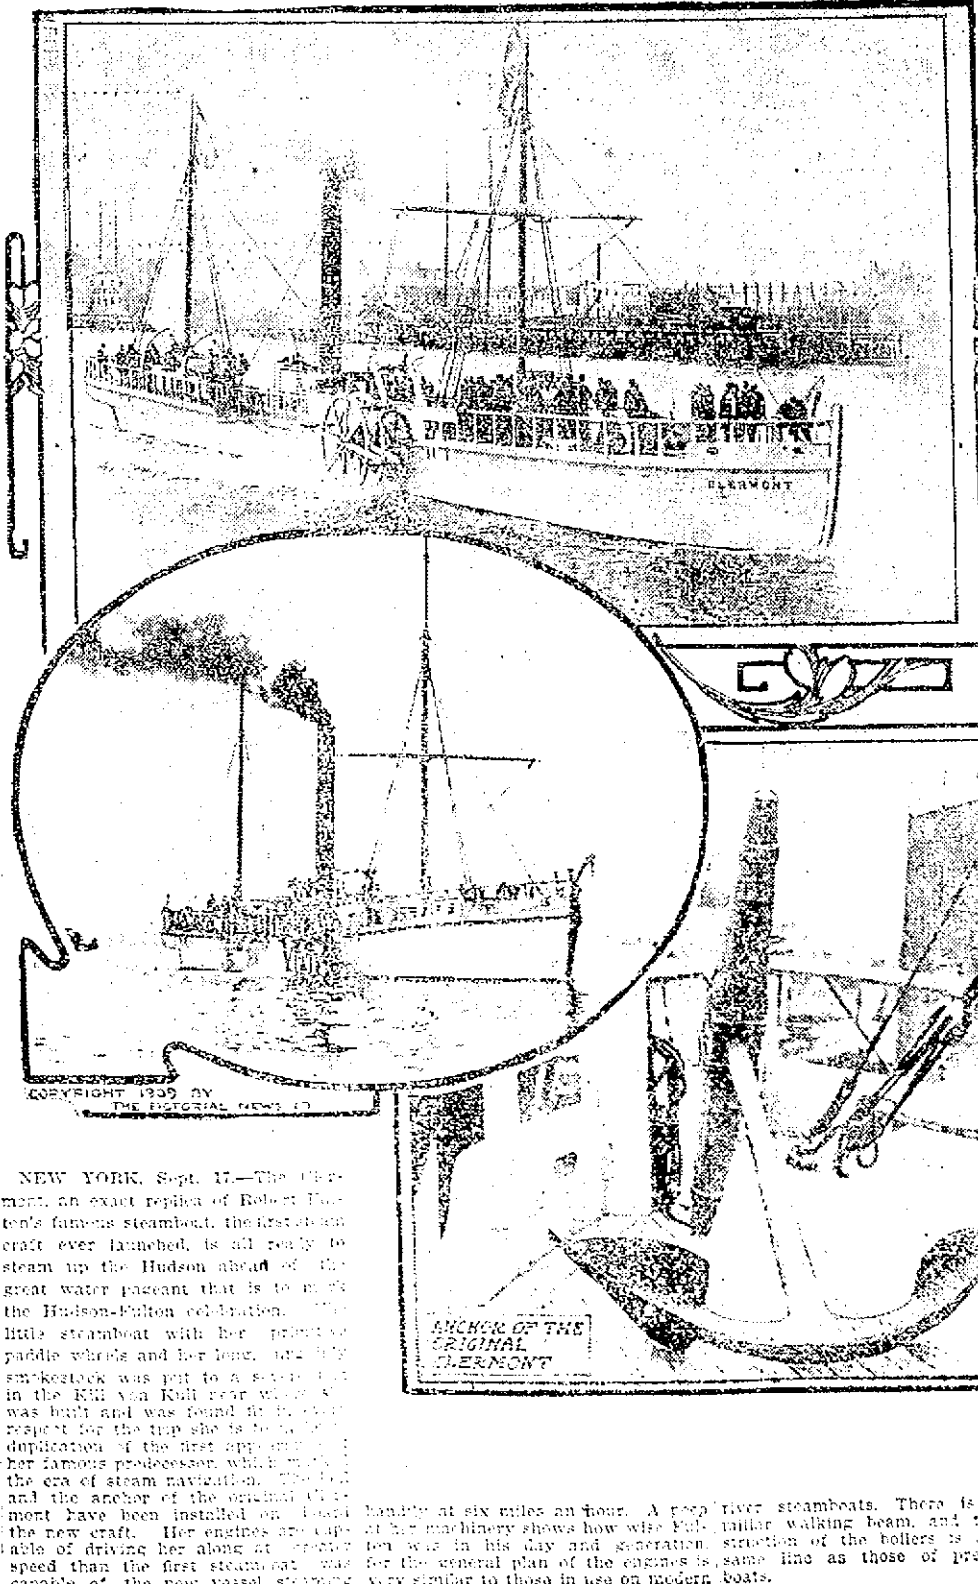

Judge Casey was appointed to the court by Gov. William B. Russell to succeed Judge Bramming. Judge Casey was the orator at a memorial McKinley concert in Hotel Aspinwall, Lenox, in September, 1906. There he met Miss Louise Elmslie Hoskins of Philadelphia and they were married in February, 1907. Mrs. Casey brought her husband a large fortune.

Last winter Judge and Mrs. Casey traveled in southern California, and it is because of his desire to make an extensive trip in the south and west this winter that Judge Casey has sent his resignation to the governor.

CONFERENCE OF D. A. R.
SPRINGFIELD, Vt., Sept. 17.—Mrs. Clayton North of Durham, state regent, opened the annual conference of the Vermont branch of the Daughters of the American Revolution here yesterday.

Among the guests was Mrs. C. C. Abbott of Keene, state regent for New Hampshire, who spoke briefly.

CONDITION THE SAME
PROVIDENCE, R. I., Sept. 17.—The condition of Mrs. Rosina Tretault, wife of Arthur Tretault, who was found unconscious beside the dead body of her husband in a room in the Narragansett hotel here Wednesday evening with gas flowing from a jet, is practically unchanged. The surgeons at the Rhode Island hospital where the young woman, a bride of but a few days, is under treatment, held out little hope of recovery.

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—The Clermont, an exact replica of Robert Fulton's famous steamboat, the first that ever hatched, is all ready to steam up the Hudson ahead of the great water patent that is to mark the Hudson-Fulton celebration. The little steamboat with her paddle wheels and her funnel, and her smokestack was put to a severe test in the Kill van Kull race which was held and was found to be a perfect duplicate of the first appearance of her famous predecessor when she was the era of steam navigation. The Clermont have been installed on board at six miles an hour. A propeller machine shows how the Clermont was in his day and generation. The Clermont for the general plan of the engines is the same line as those of present day.

FATAL INJURY

Alfred Tremblay Burst
a Blood Vessel

Alfred Tremblay of 781 Lakeview avenue died at the Lowell hospital yesterday as the result of injuries received while preparing a booth on the boulevard, a few days before the auto races.

While lifting a heavy barrel of cider Mr. Tremblay burst a blood vessel. He was taken to the hospital and operated on in hope of saving his life but he did not rally from the effects.

The deceased had kept a variety store in Lakeview avenue for several years, and was well known and highly respected. He was a prominent member of St. Louis parish, and recording secretary of the Centralville Social club, and also a member of L'Union Samuel de Champlain, French American Foresters. He was 41 years old and a native of Le Mans, Quebec, where he leaves many friends as well as in Lowell. He leaves a wife and small son; his father, Francis Tremblay; four brothers, Cyrille, Jules, Joseph and Maurice, and four sisters, Norbida, Oubeline, Elmida and Alberta, all of Lowell.

The body was removed by Undertaker Albert from the hospital to the residence, 781 Lakeview avenue.

SUGAR VENTURE IS THE LATEST PLANNED BY SANDFORD

LISBON FALLS, Me., Sept. 17.—Rev. Frank W. Sandford, the leader of the Holy Ghost and U.S. society, left the Hill Top at Shiloh yesterday afternoon for Boston, where it is understood he will negotiate for the purchase of an abandoned South American sugar plantation, which he discovered in his recent three-years' journey around the world.

It was stated at the Hill Top this afternoon that it was Mr. Sandford's plan to visit the Spanish and Portuguese these consul at Boston. The plantation, it seems, is owned by one of the South American governments.

If the place can be bought a party will be sent down from Shiloh, it is said, to operate it. The sugar will be exported for the use of the people at Hill Top and the surplus will be sold.

MAN FOUND DEAD MAY BE FOUL PLAY

His Wife Submitted to a Severe Examination

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—Mrs. Irving J. Nelson, wife of the Suffolk county political leader, who was found dead, shot through the back, near his home at Islip, Long Island, yesterday, was submitted to a severe examination by the authorities today in regard to the several important points connected with the mysterious murder of her husband. Mrs. Nelson and Augustus Schwartz, who boarded with the Nelsons, have been held as material witnesses. Col. William B. Savage, who interrogated the woman for three hours, also questioned Schwartz and said afterward that he was not satisfied with their narration of the events of the night when Nelson was shot. The coroner was convinced the murder had been committed through hatred or jealousy.

Body of Man Was Found at Revere Beach

BOSTON, Sept. 17.—The police were early today confronted by two mysteries in the finding of the unidentified bodies of two men. Shortly after daylight two police officers discovered the body of a man in the frog pond on the common where he had evidently drowned in four feet of water. At about the same time the Metropolitan police were called upon to unravel the mystery surrounding the finding of the body of a man on the Revere beach boulevard about half a mile from Point of Pines. The latter's body was said to show evidence of foul play and Medical Examiner George B. Magrath immediately began an investigation.

friends of the movement will be secured, whether members of the league or not.

Dr. Timmins, reporting for the executive committee, spoke of the furor of enthusiasm that has greeted the two envoys in Ireland and of the encouraging reports sent back by them. Dr. Timmins, as well as other members, voiced for uneasy feeling that characterized the meeting of the branch and the undercurrent of displeasure with the descriptions given by Matthew Cummings and Father O'Donnell of conditions in Ireland. A poem prepared by Edward Fitzwilliams, lauding John D. Cunningham, was loudly applauded.

Resolutions of regret at the death of William Lloyd Garrison were presented by Mr. Jordan. The appreciation of the league for the friendship of the late William Lloyd Garrison was expressed, and sympathy and condolence were framed to be sent to the bereaved family.

BIG RECEPTION

Planned for Capt. Condon and O'Callaghan

BOSTON, Sept. 17.—An enormous reception for the returning envoys of the United Irish League, Captain Edward O'Meara Condon and National Secretary John O'Callaghan, who are expected in October, with a mass meeting in Faneuil hall, was planned at the initial meeting of the season of the Boston

Central branch of the league, held last night at the American house. The executive committee of the branch, with Dr. P. J. Timmins as chairman, was appointed as committee of arrangements to prepare for the reception. Members of the branch commented on the importance of an enthusiastic greeting for the envoys, in order to counteract the discouraging reports of the A. O. H. delegates, who found fault with conditions in the work of the league.

Faneuil hall will be crowded as never before, if the plans laid down in the rough by the members of the committee on arrangements carry through. National President Ryan of Philadelphia will be invited to preside at the mass meeting, and a gathering of the

Saved by Miss Katherine Wright

FRANKFORT, Germany, Sept. 17.—Miss Katherine Wright, sister of Orville Wright, the aviator, was the central figure in a sensational rescue here last night, when she saved from a tragic death a youth who was discovered hanging head downward from the rigging of the great Parseval dirigible balloon as it swept aloft in rapid flight.

Miss Wright was a passenger in the balloon, and as the great airship left the ground the cries of horror from the spectators which reached the ears of the aviators were the first intimation they had of the lad's serious predicament.

Hundreds turned away their heads and many women fainted as they saw the lad, his feet tightly caught by the trail rope, carried into the air head down, his terrific screams sounding high above the din of cheers that marked the ascension of the balloon.

The great airship had reached an altitude of nearly 600 feet before its occupants had realized what had happened, and then it was that Miss Wright's self-control and coolness asserted itself.

Leaning far over the basket she grasped the rope in which the terrified lad was entwined and carefully started to pull him upward toward the basket, assisted by her companions in the balloon.

Slowly but surely the lad was drawn toward the basket until its side was reached, and then several pairs of hands grasped him and pulled him to safety, unhurt, although badly scared by his experience.

When the balloon again descended to the ground after the trial the immense crowd broke forth into prolonged cheers for Miss Wright and her companions.

The boy, speedily recovered, and is not a whit harmed by the terrible experience that he underwent. He has been made a hero of by other boys, but the aeronauts say that due precaution in the future will be taken to see to it that no more involuntary passengers are taken towards the clouds.

DEAD CANDIDATE

Name Must be Taken Off Ballot

BOSTON, Sept. 17.—The Boston ballot law committee established a precedent yesterday by deciding that the name of a dead man cannot legally appear on an election ballot in this city if after the death of the candidate there be time to have the name stricken off and the ballot printed for election day.

The question arose through the death of John H. Coffey, whose name appeared on the popular republican nomination card committee ticket in ward 12, and also appeared upon the machine state delegation in that ward.

Mr. Coffey died after the time had expired for withdrawing and substitutions for the state primaries.

The county clerk of the commons law court, and chief justice of the municipal court, decided that the name of Mr. Coffey must be stricken off the ballot and that the tickets on which his name appeared must appear on the election ballot short one name.

Barthelme with new head, the word to make them.

The committee decided that the McKean ticket in Ward 12 does not become invalid by having one name stricken off for the state convention from the ward list.

It was decided that the removing of the name of William L. Newcomb, the last name on the ticket, will fulfill the requirements of the law.

THE JORDAN CASE

CAMBRIDGE, Sept. 17.—The hearing on a petition for a new trial for Chester Jordan, the alleged wife murderer, arranged to be held at the Suffolk county court-house tomorrow, this afternoon has been postponed to Saturday, Sept. 25, when it will take place in the Middlesex county court-house. The petition is based on the alleged insanity of Willis A. White of Maynard, one of the jurors.

BUSINESS CONDITIONS

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—Despatches to R. G. Dun & Co. indicate that trade in all sections of the country fully maintains recent progress and collections are more uniformly prompt. Boston $3,092,255,170, 26.1 per cent over a year ago and 6.1 per cent larger than in the at both wholesale and retail, some corresponding week of 1906 when trade branches as usual showing more dis-was very active.

DERBIES FOR DRESS—SOFT HATS FOR COMFORT

Which or both?

You buy two hats in the Spring season—three perhaps—why try to get along in the Fall and Winter with one?

Of course you must have a derby—a man could hardly get by without a derby—but why not one of those smart new soft hats for early Fall?

After taking off the straw, you'll hardly notice the change in the feeling, but the appearance will be noticeable enough.

Lots of "class" in the new soft hats—especially those from Stetson.

New colors, too: Cadet blue, navy blue and lead shades are the last word in soft hat colors; pearl, smoke and heather greens are also good.

Prices—$2.00, $3.00 and $5.00.

The self conforming derbies from Stetson appeal to the man with a hard-to-fit head. They set so easy you hardly know you've a hat on.

The Fall shape is splendid—a full crown with a smartly curled brim—and shown in proportions to suit any physique.

Two qualities—$3.50 and $5.00.

The SMARTSET and SMARTSHOP derbies are clever shapes and leaders at their prices—$2.00 and $3.00.

New golf caps—50c and $1.00.

PRESIDENT TAFT

Declares His Position Toward Labor and Law

CHICAGO, Sept. 17.—President Taft last night declared with all possible emphasis during a speech at Orchestra hall that the administration of criminal law in this country today was a disgrace to American civilization.

He also declared his belief in organized labor and announced his intention of recommending to congress the appointment of a commission to take up the question of the law's delay in the federal courts.

Pres. Taft in his speech said:

"I know there is an element among employers of labor and investors of capital which is utterly opposed to the organization of labor. I cannot sympathize with this element in the slightest degree. I think it is a wise course for laborers to unite to defend their interests. It is a wise course for them to provide a fund by which should occasion arise and strikes or lockouts follow those who lose their places may be supported pending an adjustment of the difficulties. I think the employer who declines to deal with organized labor and to recognize it as a proper element in the settlement of wage controversies, is behind the times.

"There is not the slightest doubt that if labor had remained unorganized, wages would be very much lower. There is a higher standard of living among American laborers than in any country in the world, and while there have doubtless been a good many other reasons for this, certainly the effect of the organization of labor has been to maintain a steady and high rate of wages, making such a living possible.

"Nothing I have said or shall say, should be construed into an attitude of criticism against, or unfriendliness to, those workmen who for some reason do not join unions. Their right to labor for such wages as they choose to accept is sacred and any lawless invasion of that right cannot be too severely condemned. All advantages of trades unionism great as they are, cannot weigh a feather in the scale against the right of any man lawfully seeking employment to work for whom and at what price he will. And I say this with all the emphasis possible, even though the fact is that if I were a workman I should probably deem it wise to join a union for the reasons given.

"There is no subject upon which I was found and sent to the central police station.

The places raided yesterday were: Daniel Hayden, 325 Broad street, 3 1/2 gallons of whiskey seized; premises of persons unknown at 75 Munroe street, 18 gallons of whiskey, five quarts of rum, three quarts of brandy, six quarts of gin, 12 quarts of wine and 23 pints of ale seized; premises of persons unknown at 614 Summer street, 60 gallons of ale seized; premises of persons unknown at 621 Summer street, two gallons of whiskey, 5 1/2 gallons of ale and two gallons of beer taken; persons unknown at 490 Washington street, five quarts of whiskey and 10 quarts of ale taken; Charles Murphy, 46 and 48 Union street, four quarts of whiskey, and on premises of persons unknown at 215 Summer street, seven pints of whiskey seized.

BILL IN EQUITY

FILED AGAINST THE NATIONAL ATHLETIC CLUB

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Sept. 17.—A bill in equity was filed here yesterday against the co-partners of the National Athletic club, the National Sporting club and Hubert McGinnis, known as Hugh McGinnis, a professional boxer, by Gibson Marsh, a local newspaperman. The bill asks that a receiver be appointed for the National Athletic club under whose auspices the McGinnis-Frank Klara prize fight will be held tonight. Marsh claims that he with the defendants formed the athletic club and that the defendants later organized the sporting club refusing to share with him the profits derived from boxing exhibitions. A hearing on the petition will be held today.

COUNT TOLSTOI

APPEARED TO BE IN VIGOROUS HEALTH

MOSCOW, Sept. 17.—Count Tolstoi, who celebrated his eighty-first birthday last week came into Moscow yesterday for the first time in several years. He spent the night in his Moscow residence and left today for a nearby town to visit his friend, M. Pashkoff, the leader of the religious movement among the better classes which resembles Tolstoi's.

The count appeared to be in vigorous health.

RESIGNS AS PRESIDENT

MYSTIC, Conn., Sept. 17.—It was learned yesterday that a meeting of the directors of the Gilbert Transportation company on Wednesday last, Capt. Mark L. Gilbert, organizer and president of the company, had tendered his resignation as president and that it had been accepted. The cause of this action, it was admitted yesterday, was a disagreement over the management of the firm. No successor has yet been chosen to succeed Capt. Gilbert but it is expected that the directors will meet shortly and elect a president. Capt. Gilbert's brother, Capt. O. A. Gilbert, also resigned as a director and assistant superintendent.

LIQUOR RAIDS

MADE BY THE POLICE IN LYNN YESTERDAY

LYNN, Sept. 17.—Believing that the way the interstate express business is carried on in this city, by a number of people since the town became a license, is not legal, Chief of Police Burdick caused a number of places to be raided yesterday afternoon, with the result that a large quantity of liquor

GETS INJUNCTION

To Prevent Union Men From Coercing Him

BOSTON, Sept. 17.—Judge Rugg in the supreme court yesterday awarded Gerald E. Budd, formerly a member of local union 11 of the Brotherhood of Painters, Decorators and Paper Hangers of America, $50 damages against Carl E. Nordstrom and 12 other members of local union 362 of the brotherhood located at Newton. He also was granted an injunction restraining them from combining in any way to coerce Budd into paying a fine of $10 imposed by District council 25 for having worked Labor day, 1908, in violation of the rules of the union.

The fine was imposed on Feb. 7 last after he had ceased to be a member of local 11, and he was discharged by J. T. Bailey, his employer, on June 17, because of a threat by Nordstrom, representing the other defendants, that they would strike if he did not discharge Budd or put him to work on a job separate from the union men.

Judge Rugg finds this threat was made for the purpose of compelling Budd to pay the fine. The court states that if persisted in it would have a tendency to deprive the plaintiff of his means of earning a living and the defendants had no right to enforce the collection of a debt in that way. It is found that the threat to strike was not made in accordance with the constitution of the brotherhood, nor with the sanction of the officers of the district council or of local 362 as an organization.

FRED JOHNSON

Lawrence Man Held for Grand Jury

LAWRENCE, Sept. 17.—Fred Johnson, charged with manslaughter in causing the death of his wife, Margaret, was held for the grand jury by Judge Mahoney in police court yesterday. The government's case had been heard at the two previous hearings and Atty. Rochford, counsel for Johnson, offered no witnesses at this session.

Judge Mahoney commented on the case as being a narrow one but he preferred to let the district attorney pass upon it. He agreed that he would suggest that the matter come before the present sitting of the grand jury. Sureties were fixed at $4000.

SUPREME COUNCIL

OF MASONS TO MEET IN BOSTON TUESDAY MORNING

BOSTON, Sept. 17.—The supreme council of Sovereign Grand Inspectors-General of the 32d Degree, Scottish rite, Northern Masonic jurisdiction, opens its 15th annual meeting in Masonic Temple Tuesday morning.

Samuel C. Lawrence succeeds the Hon. Henry L. Palmer, who has died since the annual meeting in Buffalo last year, as most puissant sovereign grand commander, and has named Barton Smith, deputy for Ohio, to act in the second office.

The first day an informal lunch will be tendered at the Hotel Somerset to the visiting ladies, and in the evening they will be invited to a theatre party at the Hollis. Tuesday evening the members chosen to be crowned honorary members of the supreme council will be invested with that title.

It is expected that the proceedings will be finished Wednesday night, although matters may arise that will extend the time to the third day. Massachusetts has four active members in the supreme body. Sovereign Grand Commander, Lawrence was crowned Dec. 20, 1884, and two years later was entered on the active list. He is now the senior of that distinguished array.

Charles C. Hutchinson attained the 32d in August, 1875, and became an active member in September, 1894. Daniel W. Lawrence, honorary, November, 1882, active, September, 1898; Charles T. Gallagher, honorary, September, 1900, active, 1903.

Mr. P. J. Riley, the well known junk dealer, owns a cow which is liable to make him the defendant in a case in police court in the near future. It seems that the other day the animal managed to escape from its pasture and trampled and ate specially raised beets, the property of John H. Decatur in the Putnam road, Oaklands.

Now it is said that Mr. Decatur caught the cow in the act of eating the beets and immediately locked her in his barn, and went in search of the pound-keeper, O. A. Peabody, who is the duly selected keeper of the pound, when informed that there was a cow for him to care for, notified Mr. Decatur that he would handle a horse, dog or mule, but no cows.

Mr. Decatur then called Mr. Riley on the telephone and notified him that he could have the cow if he wanted to settle for the damage done. It is alleged that Mr. Riley was willing to settle, but that the amount asked by Mr. Decatur was exorbitant and Mr. Riley did not make any bones about saying so.

The outcome of the matter was the issuance of a writ of replevin by Mr. Riley, which was served Wednesday by Constable Bernard P. Gately.

Mr. Riley has the cow and Mr. Decatur says he will sue for damages.

Made by Bandits to Rob Train Workmen Marched Under Protection of American Flag

Near Leadville, Colo.

LEADVILLE, Colo., Sept. 17.—A daring attempt by two bandits to rob the second section of Denver & Rio Grande passenger train number five was made about 6 o'clock last night four miles west of Malita, a small station near Leadville. The express car was derailed. According to the trainmen no robbery was made. It is believed the robbers climbed on the two engines of the train at Malita. The train had proceeded but a short distance when two men crawled over the tenders and compelled the engineers and firemen to march back to the express car.

The latter refused and a charge of dynamite was placed under it and the door blown open. Three of the robbers rushed in covering the express messenger with their revolvers. Several charges of dynamite were placed under the safe but without result. After firing a volley the robbers fled in the darkness. One of the trainmen in the meantime had reached Malita and Sheriff Campbell with a posse at once started in pursuit. It is said the safe contained a large sum of money. The train was known as the Chicago and San Francisco express.

PITTSBURG, Sept. 17.—The second plant, On the way 1200 Creans and strikes of workmen employed at the 600 Italians joined the Americans at the Pressed Steel Car Co., which was declared Monday, was brought to an abrupt end today. In St. Patrick's church this morning at 10 o'clock the sacrament of confirmation was celebrated on one of the largest classes in the history of the church, numbering in all about 250. The officiating bishop was Right Reverend Joseph J. Anderson, the auxiliary bishop of the archdiocese. Bishop Anderson addressed the children in beautiful words on the significance of the sacrament. He then proceeded to administer the sacrament to the children, who received it with great interest and devotion. The children were then dismissed to their homes, and the church was closed for the day.

MONTEREY, Mexico, Sept. 17.—It is reported here that the Austrian consulate in the city of Saltillo has been attacked by a mob and that other political disturbances have also occurred in connection with the celebration of independence day in that city. Mr. Reichenberg, Austrian consul at Saltillo, who was in Monterey last night, was advised of the disturbances in that city through a dispatch from Mr. Reichenberg, the 12-gram stationer that the consulate of his residence was stormed and broken and that an attempt had been made to force the doors. He instructed Mrs. Reichenberg to seek the protection of the government officials and if this was not granted immediately to come to Monterey. Direct confirmation of information as to the extent of the disturbances has not been received here, owing to the precautions taken by government authorities. It is not believed by officials of the third military zone whose headquarters are in this city that the disturbances at Saltillo were serious.

IN POLICE COURT

Domestic Infelicity Aired in Court Today

When Harold W. Newcombe and Martha E. Bird got married four months ago little did they think that they would be airing their marital troubles in court this morning. According to the testimony offered in the presence of Judge Hadley today Mr. and Mrs. Newcombe's family life has been anything but pleasant.

Mrs. Newcombe testified that she has been living in Everett street since she got married and while her husband has abused her at different times the trouble in question did not culminate until Labor Day when he went to witness the races. She did not accompany him because she was not feeling well. She said that he came home after the race and then went out at night and when he returned about ten o'clock he struck her across the face.

Mrs. Mary Bird, mother of the complainant, testified that her daughter went to her house after the alleged assault and she saw the marks and the swelling on the girl's neck. Newcombe said that his wife refused to accompany him to the races Monday so he went alone. He intended to stay in the house that night, but his wife went out, leaving him, and he went out and took a trip to Lakeview. When he returned, he said that his wife called him out of his name and made certain accusations which he stated were false and she said that she was going to leave him and go home to her mother. The following morning she left him.
